

Linda Craft & Team, REALTORS®'s Katherin Burnette Earns NAR Short Sales and Foreclosure Certification

The National Association of REALTORS® recognizes Linda Craft & Team, REALTORS®'s Team Manager and Broker In Charge, Katherin Burnette, for earning the national recognized Short Sales and Foreclosure Resource certification. The NAR offers the SFR certification to realtors who want to help both buyers and sellers navigate these complicated transactions, as demand for professional expertise with distressed sales grows.

Burnette's certification makes her one of an elite group of brokers and adds to the services provided by Linda Craft & Team, REALTORS®, the Triangle's 3rd ranked real estate team and Corporate Real Estate Sponsor for the Carolina Hurricanes.

Linda Craft & Team, REALTORS®'s website has a dedicated section to learn more about short-selling in the marketplace, at :

Nearly one-third of all existing homes sold recently were either short sales or foreclosures according to an NAR survey. NAR's president, Charles McMillan indicates that the certification Burnette received is a valuable asset for people considering a distressed sale. "Foreclosures and short sales can offer opportunities for home buyers and benefit the larger community, as well, but it's extremely important to have the help of a real estate professional like a REALTOR® who has earned the SFR certification for these kinds of purchases."
