

Non Stop Portals Wins Search Engine Optimization Clients

Non Stop Portals has been selected by two Raleigh companies to provide Internet marketing and Search Engine Optimization services. According to Jerry Helms at Non Stop Portals: "Our newest customers had a similar problem. They want their web sites to generate sales dollars. Internet search engines are now used to find businesses in lieu of other advertising methods. The key for these customers is they want their business to rank well for the search terms related to their business. Our services include a monthly review of their results along with recommendations for changes."
